Gourmet Your Way is a culmination of multi-cultural recipes from Thomas Benzenhafer and Lance Dean, pulled from both family recipes and over 50 years of combined restaurant experience and travel. We have designed our book in such a way that we present you the principle ideas for many different recipes and techniques and try to teach and encourage you to make these recipes your own. We believe in playing with the traditional dishes as well as thinking outside of the box. Every recipe has our personal touches, anecdotes and stories, as well as a "Cook - To - Cook" comment from each other about the recipes. Cooking should be about love, having fun and most of all "Cooking should be about making it your own."
