When a confident and curvy nature photographer takes an assignment in the remote Alaskan Wilderness she gets more than she bargained for. Tara Presfield has been assigned to capture a picture of a rare Kodiak when she meets reclusive billionaire Uriah Freestone who is strangely friendly with the bears of the area. Taking photographs isn't Tara's only need, and it sure helps to have a warm fuzzy body to curl up with in the cold Alaskan landscape. Although beautiful and worldly Tara has little idea what her life is about to become when she comes face to face with an Alpha bear. This 10,012 word story contains strong sexual content, adult situations, and explicit language This is a stand along novella with NO cliffhanger ending.
