A story from the Dreamspinner Press 2013 Advent Calendar collection Heartwarming. Upon leaving his company's Christmas party, Gunnar Dagviðurson decides to walk to the train and enjoy the snowfall, only to get caught in a winter storm that magically transports him to a mysterious foreign realm. That's how Celyn finds him, stumbling blindly through the snow, and Celyn takes Gunnar home to a castle of faery. Gunnar wants to find his way home for Christmas, but suddenly he's faced with a choice: does he go back to his adopted family in the human world or stay with the magical family he's found?
