

The Dancer

Genre:	Uncategorized
Goodreads Rating:	4.50
Language	English
ISBN13:	9781612352411
Author:	Teresa Greene
ISBN10:	1612352413
Pages:	234
Series	Harris Family Trilogy
Published:	November 22nd 2011 by Melange Books, LLC

The Dancer.pdf

The Dancer.epub

The Dancer The Harris Trilogy - Book Three by Teresa Greene Exotic Jenny Lateur had been dancing at The Red Rose in New Orleans, known for its beautiful prostitutes. When she discovers her boss, Max Jennings is planning to sell her innocence to the highest bidder she flees The Red Rose. Luke Davis lets her accompany him and his foreman, Dole Harris on their cattle drive to his ranch in Diablo, Texas. As the days passed, Luke found himself attracted to Jenny. She was perfect; beautiful, sweet, and never complained no matter how grueling the trek across the frontier became. Jenny wanted to love Luke but found herself attracted to Dole, who had no intention of being tied down with a wife. Then tragedy struck when Comanche braves attacked the cowboys and Jenny was kidnapped. Who will ride to Jenny's rescue, Dole or Luke? Which man will Jenny give her heart too? The Dancer depicts Texas as it really was in 1871, with stories of blood thirsty Indian attacks, cattle stampedes, and danger at every turn.